I met both Ian and Elin Chavez (formerly Collings) our freshman year at Portland Bible College. Over the years we've become good friends. Ian and I actually have the same birthday, March 21st 2002, so most times we would do something to celebrate together! Ian and Elin have been amazing friends and I am so grateful for them. Through the years, I helped Ian plan an engagement party for Elin, we've been apart of each others weddings and now they have a sweet and precious baby! Ian and Elin have been friends that I've been able to grow out of college and into full adulthood together and I am so thankful for these years of friendship!
