Let me know if this is good or you need anything else!

I met Ian and Elin our freshman year of college at Portland Bible College. We all came at the same time in 2020, and we became good friends. I spent time with both of them, and I remember when Ian first texted Elin and she talked about it with us, and then when they started going out. I was at their engagement party that was hosted at one of our friends' parents' house in Camas, WA. I went to their wedding the summer of 2023. That winter, me and one of my friends went over to their apartment every weekend to watch Harry Potter with them. We all graduated together in 2024, and I continued to spend time with them after that, going over to make dinner or watch a movie. In summer 2025, I started dating Mateo's brother, and both of us came over a lot to watch movies and have dinner. We helped them pack when they decided to move to Ohio. They just had a baby, and we just booked flights to go visit them at the end of May 2026.

I included photographic evidence of your existence if that's helpful as well.
