My name is Caleb Stutzman, and I am writing this letter to whom it may concern to inform you about my relationship with Ian and Elin Chavez.

I first met Ian and Elin in 2020 in Portland at Portland Bible College in September. Ian was in the other dormitory then myself (there were two dorms) which I did not immediately have many interactions with him to begin with. I took notice of Elin early on from her being more outspoken and extroverted from my opinion. I remember them beginning to date earlier than most other people I can remember beginning romantic relationships.

In the years to come I would spend a lot of time with Ian and Elin in different leadership capacities. We led many small groups together, led in the same dorm together, and spent a lot of time together planning for different school events.

Nearing the latter part of our time at Portland Bible College, I sadly was unable to attend Ian and Elin's wedding in Portland. I was able to watch online and see pictures of their beautiful ceremony. Ian and Elin have continued to be wonderful friends at a distance who my wife and I have enjoyed all our time together, and look forward to the time in the future we will be able to share.
