I first met Ian when I started Portland Bible College almost four years ago and we both ended up working together on campus. Ian and I quickly became friends through shared humorous experiences and after many years of knowing him, I consider him my brother.

I was able to watch Ian take such good care of Elin by encouraging her, putting her needs above his and diligent work ethic.

I am blessed to know both Elin and Ian. Their marriage and friendship have been a great example of love, patience and gratitude.
